Jay Carl Cashion expects to learn today whether or not he will be of use in the big league. He is conferring with "Bonesetter" Reese in Youngstown, Ohio. When he returns tomorrow he will report at once to Manager Griffith the results of his visit. If Reese decides that the big fellow's arm is injured beyond repair, Cashion may retire from baseball and go back to his law studies at Davidson University.

Cashion thought his arm had fully recovered from the injury it received in Cleveland in May and it gave him no bother during the game he played here a week or so ago. But two days ago in practice he felt the same old twinge in the elbow and found it impossible to curve a ball. Then he concluded to call upon the baseball wizard, Reese.

The Carolina mountaineer seemed to have excellent prospects of becoming a big league star when he first joined the Washington club. Last year he won a majority of his games, though always inclined to lack control, and Manager Griffith was counting on him to bolster up the twirling corps this season. But Cashion never showed a thing till May and then promptly hurt his arm in the first game he started in Cleveland. He was not used again until the team returned home from its last trip around the circuit.

Mike Williams, the big pitcher bought from Helena, Mont., has arrived and may be seen in action in a few days. Manager Griffith wants to take a look at him first and will allow him to rest after his long train ride across the continent before asking him to steam up. Williams has a good reputation in the Union Association and may develop into a good man.

The race between Newark and Rochester for the International League pennant this season is one of the greatest ever fought in Ed Barrow's hustling circuit. Though the Newark lead has been cut down to almost nothing, it is likely that it will be big enough to enable them to slip through.

Newark cannot lag, however, or the Rochester are likely to catch them. Each team has four more games to play. Newark's four are with Jersey City, and those of Rochester are with the Toronto club, champions of the league last season.

If Newark wins three out of four they will win the pennant, even though Rochester should clean up Toronto straight. In that event Newark would win by half a game, the percentages of the two teams being as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Newark	55	58	.486
Rochester	56	59	.483

Connie Mack says that he will not attempt to use "Stuffy" McInnes again until he is certain that the young first baseman will suffer no permanent injury. Jack Combs' case is fresh in Mack's mind, and he does not intend to have McInnes relapse. Combs tried to get into shape too soon following his illness, and may never be able to play ball again. On this account McInnes has been ordered to stay on the bench until he is perfectly satisfied that he has recovered. He may not play in the world's series, but Connie Mack will work along with Harry Davis and say nothing.

In compelling the Giants and Phillies to play over their disputed game, starting at the point where it was held up, and under the same conditions except the waving center field, Tom Lynch, the National League president, is following a precedent established in the American Association in 1910. President Chivington ordered a similar game played over between Columbus and Minneapolis. Umpire Guthrie has called a game for darkness, though amateur teams in Minneapolis played fully an hour after that. Minneapolis was leading by four runs with two more times at bat coming to Columbus. However, Columbus refused to play off under these conditions, having sought an entire game in its protest, and the game was recorded in favor of Minneapolis. Therefore, the Phillies and the Giants will finish out their game at the Polo Grounds, starting where they left off in Philadelphia.

WALTER LEVERENZ PUZZLES MACKMEN

St. Louis Southpaw Has No Trouble Whitewashing Leaders, Winning 5 to 0.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Walter Leverenz had no trouble puzzling the Mackmen's sluggers yesterday, and hung up a whitewashing victory, 5 to 0, when he went to the shower bath. Letting the leaders down with four hits in no small achievement, yet that is what the St. Louis southpaw did, and he never turned a hair doing it, either. Errors gave the Brownies their first two runs, but they fell upon Bob Shawkey in the ninth for four singles and a pass, giving them three earned runs. Harry Davis played first in place of McInnes, who watched the game from seat in the upper tier. The score:

R. H. E.
Brownies..... 00 00 00-5 7 1
Mackmen..... 00 00 00-0 0 0
Batteries—Brownies, Leverenz and McInnes; Mackmen, Shawkey and Schang.

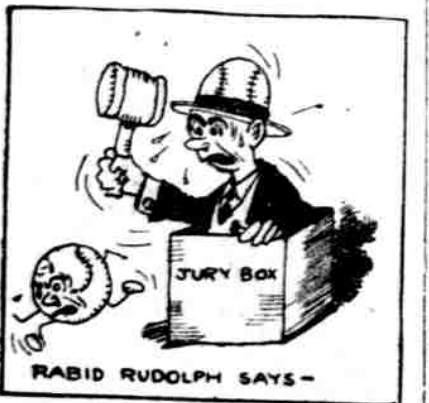

All-Stars Will Tackle Vigilants on Sunday

The All-Stars, which emerged victorious in the last battle against the Bankers, tripping the amateur champions by 6 to 4, will meet the Vigilants on Sunday at the Union League Park grounds.

Austin Howard, Chief Green, Yum Morfield, and Joe Gobel will be with the All-Stars in their Sunday engagement.

Chicago City Series To Begin October 7

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The first game of the city championship series between the Cubs and White Sox will be played on October 7, it was announced today, providing the Cubs don't win the National League pennant. Its dropping one more game, the Cubs will put themselves mathematically out of the race.

I knew Bob Groom would have a good try this season.

BOB GROOM STOPS TIGERS IN TRACKS

Jennings' Jungaleers Bowled in Defeat by Slender Slinger's
Classy Shoots.

By "SENATOR."

Sir Robert Groom's oldtime power over the Detroit Tigers was never better shown than yesterday, when the slender slinger romped home an easy winner, 5 to 1. Though touched up for several singles, one a double and one a triple, the Jungaleers were helpless before the amazing curve and perplexing splitter of the Capitan. He whiffed five of the foe, did not issue a pass. The small but courageous crowd of fans gave Groom a lively reception at the conclusion of his mastery bit of work.

Hughy Jennings turned loose a couple of his bush league flinging recruits, Renfer and Harding. Renfer lacked control and was also hit hard in the first two frames, allowing four hits for five runs, but after that he settled down and kept the Griffins quiet. Harding pitched the last two innings and one run was marked up against him in the eighth. Both pitchers are husky lads and may make good as soon as they get experience.

Moeller walked to start the game. Milan doubled. Foster's single scored them both. Henry walked to start the second and Spencer tipped a solid single to center. McBride filled the bases by being hit by a pitched ball. Groom forced Henry at the plate and Moeller rolled to Renfer, Spencer scoring. Milan singled to center, scoring McBride, and Groom also scored over when Cobb fumbled the drive.

With one down in the eighth Henry hammered one to the scoreboard for three corners and tallied when Ben Spencer drifted a double to right. The next two died, ending the offensive tactics of the Griffins for the day.

The Tigers' lone tally came in the ninth. Louden doubled to right, Renfer's infield out nothing him on third and Bush's roller to McBride allowing him to cross the plate. Four time the first Tiger up hit safely, but that lone run was all the visitors could collect. Cobb went hitless and fanned in the sixth with a man on.

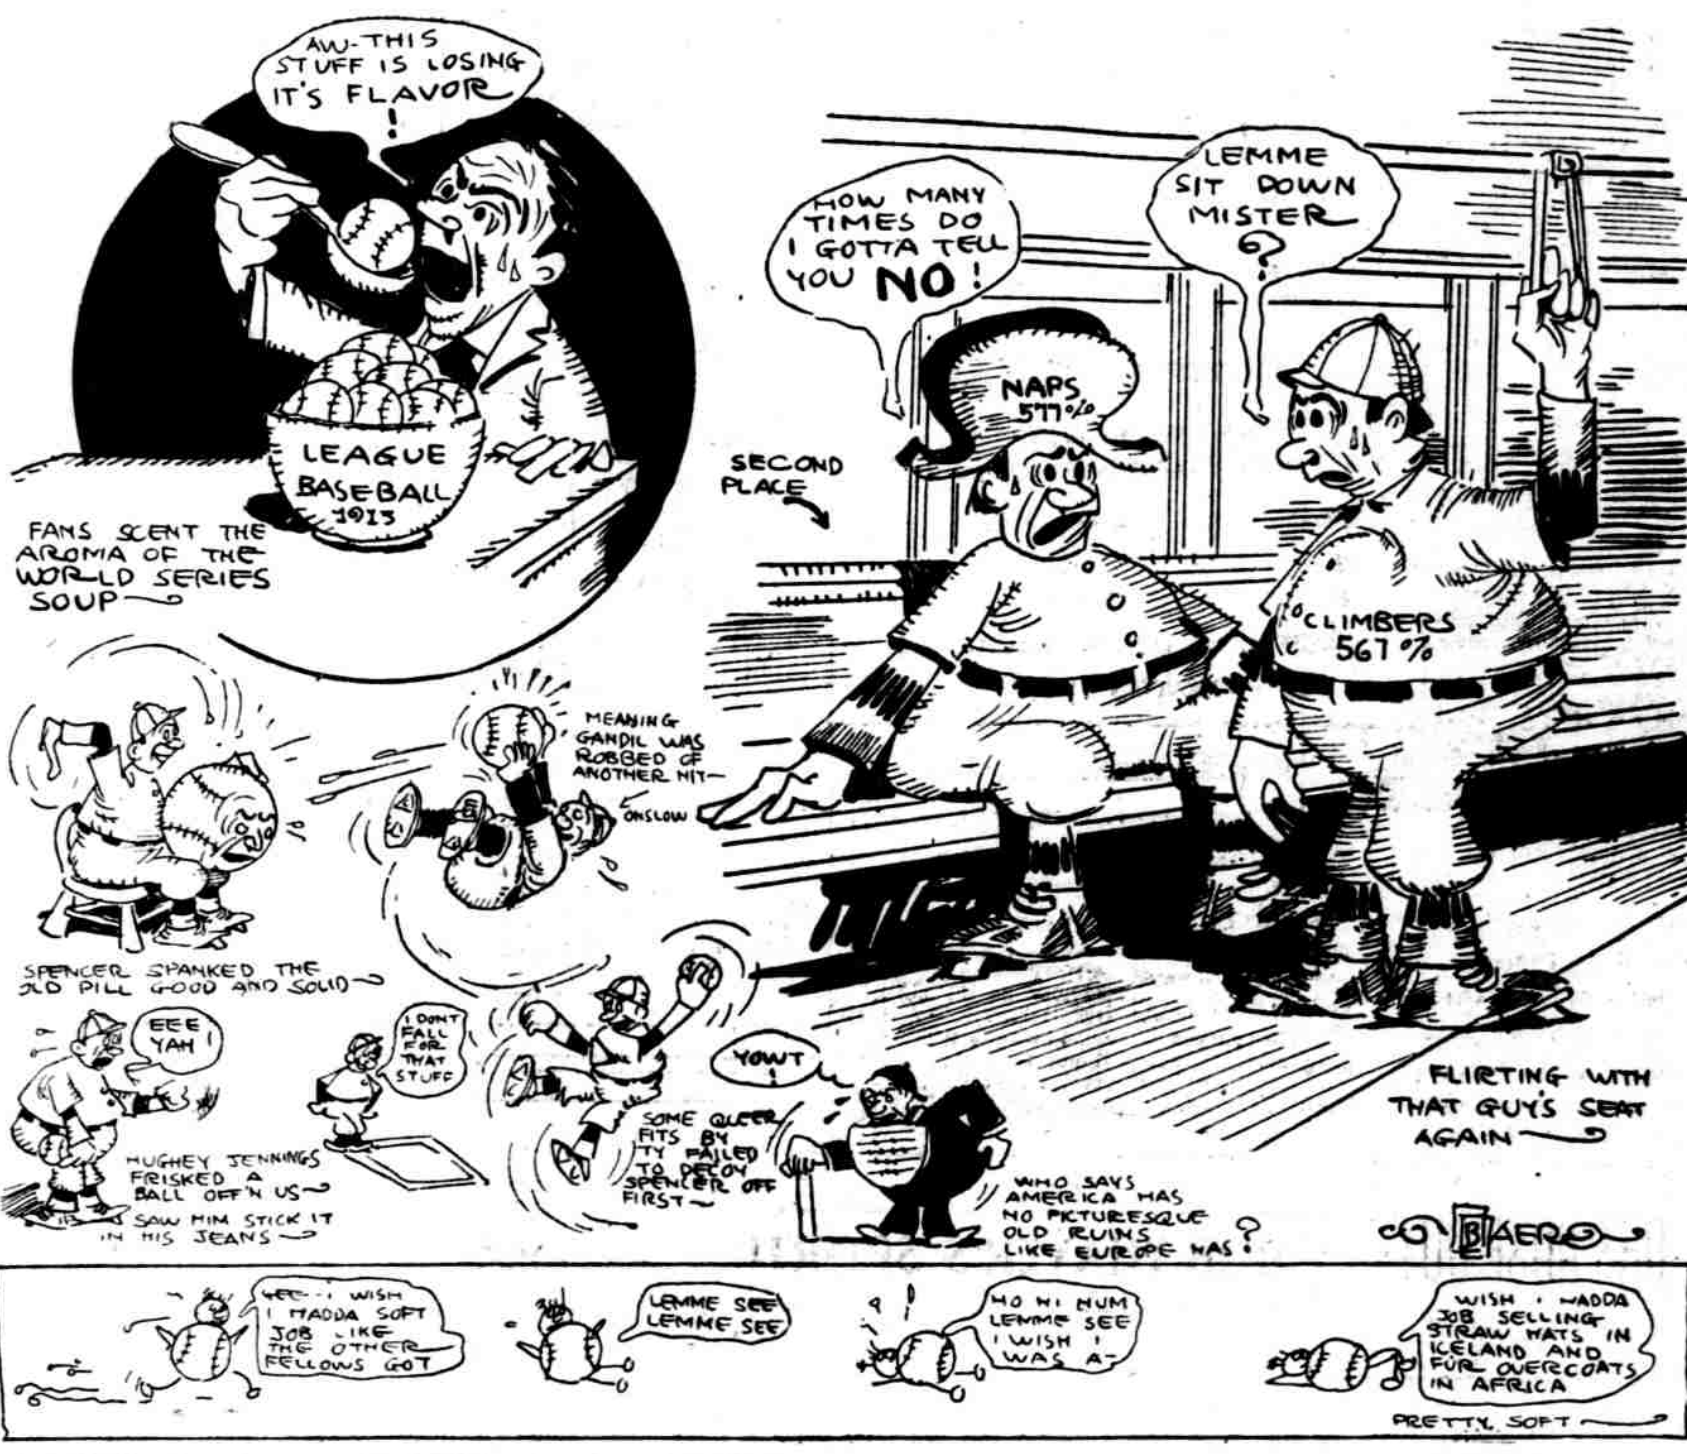

Here's how a victory looks:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Washington	55	58	.486
Detroit	56	59	.483

Runs—Moeller, Milan, Henry, Spencer, McBride, Groom and Louden. Stolen bases—Henry and Crawford. Two-base hits—Henry, Milan, Louden. Three-base hits—Henry. Bush. NAPLANDERS BLOW AND LOSE VICTORY

Carisch Hurls to Center Field When Engle Digs for Second, and Then Leibold Pegs Wildly to Third, Allowing Boston Fat-Man to Scurry Across Plate, Winning Game.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 19.—The Cleveland Naplanders went into the sixth inning of yesterday's game, and before they could get back to earth the Red Sox had tallied four times, putting them in the scramble after the victory. In the next inning Carisch and Leibold came through with poor pears, and Clyde Engle went over with the winning run, the Red Sox landing, 5 to 4. Mogeley started the game in the box for the Red Sox, but was hit hard. In the seventh he gave way to Hugh Bedient, who effectively put a stop to the Naps' attack. The score:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Red Sox	50	50	.500
Naps	49	51	.490

Batteries—Red Sox, Mogeley, Bedient and Cady; Naps, Cullip, James, Greig and Carisch, O'Neill.

Marty McHale Pitches Yankees to Victory

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Marty McHale, the recruit twirler from Jersey City, once more showed his class when he baffled the White Sox yesterday and won, 5 to 3. The Yankees knocked Red Russell off the slab in the fourth. Ed Walsh replaced him and allowed but one run. The score:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Yankees	100	40	.714
White Sox	100	101	.500

Batteries—Yankees, McHale and Gossett; White Sox, Russell, Walsh and Easterly.

Jim Vaughn Meets His First Defeat as Cub

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Jim Vaughn dropped his first game since becoming a member of the Cubs yesterday to the Boston Braves, who coupled hits and daring base running with Zimmerman's
